

Does Your Family Have More than One Individual with Autism, Asperger Syndrome or other PDD?

Would you like to participate in a research study?

Dr. Peter Szatmari, M.D., FRCP(C) and the research staff at the Offord Centre for Child Studies, are currently recruiting volunteer families from across Canada to participate in an ongoing investigation of the genetics of autism/PDD.

We are looking for families with two or more individuals affected with Autism/PDD (siblings, cousins, or any other extended relative pairs)

For further information regarding the study or to inquire about participating, please contact:
